REPORT OPTIONS

The Strengthscope has the following software reports available:

- Strengthscope Feedback Report: The feedback report provides a comprehensive account of the candidate's strengths, along with ideas as to how to put these strengths to better use at work. The feedback report forms a basis for a strengths-focused feedback session to provide the respondent with the best chance of achieving their personal best at work.
- StrengthscopeLeader: This report provides leaders with powerful self-awareness and development focus to promote strengths optimisation, performance improvement and achieve exceptional results.
- Strengths Engagement Index: This report is for those who want to gain a once-off measure of productive use of strengths and engagement. It gives a snapshot of the productive use of strengths and engagement levels of a group at a specific point in time.

- StrengthscopeTeam Report: This report can form the basis of a strengths-focused team development program. It energises peak team performance by providing the team with awareness and guidance on their clear strengths and how these can be used to optimise their performance.
- Strengthscope360 Report : This report is for anyone who wants feedback from colleagues and other performance stakeholders on their strengths and risks in their performance to enable them to improve performance at work.
